

About Us

Community health coverage,
Community providers,
Community well-being

Alliant is proud to call Georgia home.

We are the only Georgia-founded and Georgia-based Provider Sponsored Health Care Corporation (PSHCC) offering health plans. For more than 25 years, Alliant Health Plans' commitment to the community has been to improve access to affordable and quality health care.

This commitment drives every aspect of our business — customer service measures, provider network standards, plan design and benefits, as well as the new services and products offered in 115 Georgia counties.

Supporting our goal to provide Members with wide-ranging access to local care, our collaborative Provider Network includes more than 21,000 health care providers and facilities in Georgia. Our products range from group health plans to individual family plans, all of which are thoughtfully designed with the needs of local businesses and communities in mind.

As we continue to expand and adapt, we will strive to serve our members with quality health plans, intentionality, and care.
